ALT SAGAS | JEAN HUETS

“Huets is an endlessly inventive writer, grounding speculations about the future in well-researched mythologies of the past as we know it. In these five tour-de-force tales, space crusaders and lonely Calibans sift through the cultural rubble on a hunt for hope and connection.” — Susann Cokal

ALT SAGAS conjures up places and times almost familiar, unfolding the quandaries of our lives, and of our futures. Loyalty—and what happens when it’s displaced, social revolution, aging, faith, the perils of magic, physical nonconformity, and more are probed in three novellas and two bonus stories.

- The Tragedy of Gentleman: The reality of being “not strictly human” in a world dominated by humans hits Gentleman with tragic force when the ruling court he serves begins to unravel.
- The Tibetan Deity of Wisdom: A military officer in a forever war finds an unusual group of soldiers when she’s sent to straighten out a back-line camp deep in the jungle.
- The Saga of Cuno: In a setting like that of the Icelandic Sagas, a tight-knit family of witches, including a human-to-dog shapeshifter, brings disaster on itself and its protectors.
- Petro-09: When a conspiracy rises against the caste system of a region defined by an oil refinery, various people connect knowingly or unknowingly to the cause: Sarag of the Emporium, Faithful Son, Garbage Gal, Exile, Saloon Keeper, Security Master, and New Woman.
- Sundowning: A widow whose memory is eroding must find a way to go on after losing her home and all her belongings in one, catastrophic moment.

“Huets’ imaginative takes on our cultural touchstones help to explain how we crashed our way into a frightening future; they also promise that we are more than the sum of our technology and our losses.” — Susann Cokal, The Kingdom of Little Wounds (ALA Michael L. Printz Award) and Breath and Bones

“A fresh, smart and highly entertaining story collection.” — Fred Leebron, The News Said It Was

PRAISE FOR JEAN HUETS’ THE BONES YOU HAVE CAST DOWN

Enchanting and richly historical, dazzling and dark, heart-wrenching and intoxicating. — Stuart R. Kaplan, Pamela Colman Smith

A storytelling treasure. Speculative elements are deftly melded into the mix.... Thought provoking as well as entertaining. — Ron Andre, A Matter of Fancy
